rondamcnae Signing an NDA (Harvey Weinstein style) came with a price.

A price I would have to pay over & over again. 🤔 I've decided, I'm done. This has been a carbon monoxide leak that's been slowly killing me.

When I signed this NDA, I was led to believe I waived my right to ever report to local authorities. I no longer had the power or right to act, speak, think, or feel as one wants without hindrance or restraint. The pressure to sign the NDA was magnified after Microsoft & SoftwareONE decided to not any take action after I reported details of a fragmented night that should put a man in jail.

I collected evidence proving a pattern of behavior where this man used his position of power to take advantage of a work relationship to prey and groom me. I met him at a work event put on by his company SoftwareONE in July 2019. He shared his father just recently passed & even shared details of HOW he died while suffering from Alzheimer's. His mother was sick with a prolapsed colon & was on a list for surgery in the UK. He shared the unfortunate reality of a custody battle with his ex-wife (police officer) who ran off with her boss. I saw pictures of his son. He just ended a long term relationship where his gf forced him to choose between spending time with her & his dying dad & time with his son. This wasn't a man who "just" compulsively lies. When you knowingly misrepresent & manufacture your identity to gain sympathy from empathetic people who genuinely believe theres good in everyone, that's psychological coercion. Predatory psychopaths prey on others emotions. They use guilt trips & flattery to manipulate others. I was (almost) a perfect target & this was (almost) the perfect crime. Plot twist I

Plot twist, I became a detective. I studied mental illnesses, predatory patterns and behaviors, personality disorders, & picked a part a two week period. I had to figure out how this happened & why it happened. Uncovering a motive, theory, & providing enough evidence to support.

Women can have balls too.

Release me from the NDA or sue me for breaching #TIMESUP either way it will all eventually come to light!! @timesupnow @metoomvmt
